

The Twelve Lessons

by Frank Henninger

The truth of our nature
Which forms the footpath
To knowing who we are
Is that we are seeking our good
And our good is our God

All is good
All is truth
When we lift the inner eye
To see the Highest Good
The outer eyes see the world anew
And our lips speak our true name
I Am That I Am

Nothing is separate
Nothing is evil
There is no reality to matter
We shed our conviction of absence
To embrace that our Good is there
And that where there is all good, all power
There is no mixture, no conditions, nothing to fear
Only healing and illumination

We declare and affirm that all is good
And doubts vanish like shadows
Where the light glows strong
The Most High Good is life and truth and love
Substance and intelligence

Wisdom and wholeness

And we live with the courage of intention
The strength of inspiration
The deep conviction of mind
Manifesting our commands
Spoken with authority and faith
Giving form to substance
As we think and speak

Our work is the activity of faith
Without effort
Our lives records of our thoughts
In submission to the Law
In meekness and confidence
As we speak the good news
That all are free and all are
Of the divine heritage

The power of spirit
Is quickened in our minds
The secret revealed
As we speak our words
And covenant with life
Setting aside our Adam nature
The Christ nature is revealed

All thoughts of good become our Good
All things wait on us to see them truly
All lives reflecting that which is thought
The breath of our mind
Is Spirit uttering Itself
Praising, healing, revealing
The inheritance of the world

Matter deceives

It makes up appearances
Formed by thoughts of a God
Who never existed
All being is Spirit
And we are Spirit
Masters of the Law
An unquenchable light
The focused eye of Divinity
Seeing God in all
As all are loved

The Highest God
The Inmost God
Is One God
The Self
The Presence
God contemplating God
The Seed of all Good
Manifest as human kind
As human mind

We persist without fear
So our good is affirmed
In our world
In the silent language of wordless knowing
Good reigns
Paradise is seen
And faith is chosen

The transcendent power
Of transcendent beings
Calling all things by their true names
Making the world obedient to truth

We stand firm in happiness and peace
In confidence, and in faith

As the life principle
Fails us not
Vast openings and channels of power
Released and set free
Unyielding to appearances
Set in our will
Without falter or failure
The spiritual self Lord over the human self
Inspiration flows like words onto blank paper
Our lives in perfect judgment
Sacred expressions of dominion
And omnipotence

In Love is the law fulfilled
In Love there is no death
In Love is freedom from every ill
In Love are all infused with power
In Love is all strength radiated
In Love do we rejoice in all that occurs
In Love do we transcend that which we know
In Love is all understanding
In Love is all perfection
All truth, all joy, all Good
All health, all balance, all prosperity
All peace, all wisdom, and the Mind of God

We claim our birthright
Our perfect world
Our paradise now
The finished work of the Divine Mind
The joyous song
The eternal smile
On the face of God
